Review

"These books are brilliant! The Q & As sound so similar to our real exam questions.. I would definitely recommend these to all students on the LLB and also for students refreshing their knowledge for the LPC"

NEW GRADUATE JUST ABOUT TO START LPC

"What a relief! A book I can understand quickly.. I'll be using these this year"

SECOND YEAR UNDERGRADUATE

"This is an excellent series, which hits the target at a remarkable number of levels. The clarity of its reference points makes it ideal for students new to undergraduate study, while at the same time being the perfect 'refresher' book for students about to start on professional courses. More than that, the series is great as a 'starter pack' for non-specialist students covering elements of law as part of their wider studies, and invaluable for teaching international students studying the English common law from abroad."

Not American Commercial Law

By ix88

Based on the description provided at the time of purchase, it was not apparent that this book does not deal with US Commercial Law. Rather it deals with English common law, a bit of Hong Kong common law, and international commercial law (CISG).

That being said, the book was essentially useless for me as a supplement since I was an American law student studying for a domestic commercial law exam.

Substantively, the book is not very comprehensive and serves more as a general review or brush-up.

It covers:

Description and quality

Passing of Property and Risk

Nemo Dat Quod Non Habet

Making and Cancelling a Credit Agreement

Default and Termination of Credit Agreements

Connected Lender Liability

General Principles of Agency
Relationship with 3rd Parties
FOB Contracts
Cif Contracts

Also, one small gripe: 20% of the text in this book is pink to highlight key concepts or words. The pink color is not easy on the eyes.

Commercial law supplements that I found useful for my commercial law exam were: Negotiable Instruments E&E, Secured Transactions E&E, and the Contracts E&E.
